AN IMPENDING CABINET CRISIS.

About 30 Fer Cent of the Foor Animals Are Disabled for Life.

CERTAIN DEFEAT AWAITS CAPRIVI

[COPTRIGHT, 1892, BY N. T. ASSOCIATED PRESS.] BERLIN, Oct. 8.-The long-distance military ride is the one topic of conversation in this city. All classes are interested in the event, which has totally eclipsed politics and everything else. Despite the disappointment of the Germans at the winning of the race by an Austrian and the better general time made by them, they are lavishing every hospitality upon the Austrians. The latter have been feted and dined by the officers of different crack regiments. To-day a series of great races was given in their honor. Emperor William will return Monday evening from Weimar, whither he has gone to attend the golden wedding celebration of the Grand Duke of Saxe-Weimar, when he will give the Austrians a dinner. He will, also, visit the stables where the Austrians' horses are kept. Some of the horses are irreparably injured. In one stall at the stables is a beautiful mare with both her bind hoofs split. She is steaming and sweating, and is evidently in great agony. She made the distance from Florisdorf to Berlin in 82 hours.

Thirty Per Cent Disabled for Life.

Of 50 horses inspected 15 are disabled for life. The thoroughbreds suffered the most. The condition of the animals is pitiable Their sides are sunken in and it seems as if their spines were twisted awry. Some Hungarian horses that are scarcely bigger than ponies seem to be in wonderfully good condition. Accurate statistics of the horses that have died in Berlin cannot be obtained. It is known, however, that eight of the Austrian animals died on the road.

While the horse has reigned supreme in the public mind, a ministerial crisis has been quietly preparing. The differences be-tween Chancellar von Caprivi and Herr tween Chancellor von Caprivi and Herr Miquel, Prusian Minister of Finance, have been widened through the unbeard of action of the Chancellor in completely ignoring the Prussian Cabinet in the presentation of the new military bill. The Chancellor, who has succeeded in overcoming the Emperor's opposition to the bill, did not consult either Herr Miquel or Count von Eulenberg, President of the Prussian Council of Ministers, in regard to the measure.

A Dubious Outlook for Caprivi.

It is predicted that the Chancellor will dissolve the Reichstag if the bill fails to dissolve the Reichstag if the bill fails to pass. The radical papers are jubilant over this outlook, and express the hope that in the event of dissolution their party will make great gains. The Vossiache Zeitung says to-day that there is no chance of the bill passing and the dissolution will only strengthen the opposition and compel Chancellor Caprivi to resign. The paper calls mean the Gayastument to withdraw or calls upon the Government to withdraw, or at least to postpone the bill.

The Chancellor, in the meantime, circulates the story that the bon, as now pro-posed, is practically the same as the one prepared by Prince Bismarck, which had the approval of General Count von Waldersee, who was then Secretary of War, and that there is no truth in the reports that either the Chief of Staff or the Minister of War disagree as to its provisions.

The Cologne Gazette a few days ago published a denial of the reports circulated about the trouble the Emperor was alleged about the trouble the Emperor was alleged to have with one of his cars. The denial is said to have come straight from the court, the Emperor being very sensitive on the subject. Prince Bimarck's organ now proclaims that the stick is perfectly true, and that it is folly to deny it. It adds that the facts are well known to all the intimate re-

The Kalser in Financial Straits.

Stories of the Emperor's financial difficulties are again current. His father and grandtather allowed army subalterus a cerwere without private means. Emperor William refuses to continue this practice, and no further grants will be made, though the present recipients under the old system will continue to draw the sums allotted to them until they are promoted. The number of subalterns receiving the bounty is very small. They are mostly the sons of men who died on the field and whose families have been for generations in the Prussian service. The Emperor's action in this matter has caused much goasip, and it is given out as positive evidence that he is hard up. The Emperor's cordial message confirm-ing the election of Herr Zelle, who is an ardent Liberal, as Burgomaster of Berlin, is regarded as of great political importance. When Herr Zelle's name was first men-tioned for the position it was freely pre-dicted that the Emperor would never con-firm his election. During the old Emperor's life the relations between the Bur-gomaster and the court were very strained. Even at the beginning of the present reign things continued in the same state until Prince Bismarck's influence declined three

Imperial Boycotts at an End. The Emperor confirmed the election of Herr von Forckenbeck, the predecessor of Herr Zelle; but it is said he remarked to Minister Herrfurth, who pressed him to the confirmation, "Don't let me be asked again to confirm the election of a Libert Research to confirm the election of a Liberal Burgomaster." His action in regard to Herr Zelle was looked forward to with anxiety. The message was a pleasant surprise, and it is regarded as a sign that the time of boycotting political opponents of the Govern-ment is over.

Three thousand retail traders of Cologne have petitioned the Federal Council and the Emperer to abolish the new Sunday rest law. They assure him that Sunday rest tends to make employes not more re-ligious but more pleasure seeking and discontented. The petition adds that statistics show that it is unfavorable to morality and had political economy to hamper trade, and collects experience from the ruin of many poor traders. The Chamber of Commerce of Upper Bavaria is preparing to agitate the question, holding the same views as the Cologne petitioners.

A Preventive and Cure for Cholera and La Grippe.

From past history we cannot but expect the Cholera and La Grippe in our midst in the near future and in order that everybody may prepare themselves for the emergency and knowing that I cannot treat you all personally I am having printed a correct and never failing formula for the prevention and cure of Cholera and another for the cure of La Grippe which I warrant to do the work if used in time. In order that everybody may have a chance to get these formulas, I am having them printed in 500,000 lots, and on and after this date I will have one wrapped around every bettle of Burgoon's System Renovator that leaves my office or laboratory. Among the many hundreds that have been treated with these prescriptions I know of none that have died.

System Renovator is a compound of 19 different roots and herbs that work in harmony on the human system. I will put up $1,000 that it has no equal as a family medicine. My capacity to-day is 10,000 bottles permonth, and you will find it in every wholesale and retail drug store at $100 per bottle, or 6 for $5 00. Have your druggist get it for you, and take no other. I will refund you the money for every bottle that does not do as I say. It is the world's wonder and will be at the World's Fair in all its glory.

I have cured 247 persons of tape worms in the last 41 months, and can show more cures of cancer, cantarth, scrotula and all blood diseases than all others.
